Traditional Therapeutic Action

How much thought do you give to your colon?
Probably not much at all.

Eating and drinking foods and fluids loaded with preservatives, sugars, and chemicals can destroy the normal flora or beneficial bacteria found in the intestinal tract which is necessary for the proper functioning of digestive process.

Mucus-forming foods (dairy products in particular), junk foods, white flour, etc and bad digestion cause a build-up of a sticky substance which adheres to the walls of the colon. As the colon walls become coated with this sticky substance, absorption is interfered with. In addition, worms and parasites find a perfect breeding ground between the thick mucous coating and the colon wall.

As the parasites eat our food, their excretions become sources of toxic poisoning which enters into our bloodstream and overloads our liver.

Recently, the subject of the poisoning effects of an unclean colon were discussed at some length in London before the Royal Society of Medicine. Two hundred and seventy seven surgeons, physicians, and specialists in various branches of medicine noted the harmful effects of more than 36 poisons that are generated in an unclean and unhealthy colon. They blame such poisons for ailments like colitis, appendicitis, gastric and duodenal ulcers, high blood pressure, cirrhosis of the liver, hardening of the arteries, chronic fatigue, depression and arthritis, to name but a few.

Good For You Corp has combined the tradition of wisdom and the ages with the science of modern technology to present the Colon and Body Cleanse Program. It has been developed by some of North America's top herbalists and researchers in the field of colon health. The program utilizes 4 major components to aid the body in restoring colon health.
