

Category 16
Magnetic Therapeutics

3 Metal Magnetic Bracelet - Unisex

#599611

Description: An attractive bracelet containing copper, brass, and silver for therapeutic use, with the addition of magnets.

Contents / Ingredients

Traditional Therapeutic Action

Copper, brass and silver are integrated into this attractive bracelet. These three metals can deliver important minerals to your wrist, including copper, zinc, nickel and silver. Copper is known for its anti-inflammatory effects, while zinc and silver are excellent for healing and have antibacterial properties. Many users report excellent relief from common arthritis pain and joint inflammation.

Two strong rare earth magnets (3500 gauss) are also embedded on the lower inside of the bracelet, to stimulate circulation and reduce inflammation. They are north (-) polarity facing the body, and this is important for optimal results. A south (+) polarity towards the body can actually increase inflammation and pain.

The combination of these products, in our opinion, create an excellent, unequalled bracelet that will last a lifetime.

Comes in a red velvet gift bag.

CAUTION: Magnets should not be used with pacemakers. Computer disks, credit cards or recording tapes can also be erased by close contact with magnets.